The Rhode Island Coalition for Israel is praising President Donald Trump for his decision to decertify the Iran Deal.

The group sent a letter to Trump on Friday to congratulate him on the decision.

"As you have publicly noted, this Deal represented one of the most incompetent examples of diplomacy in American history. We fought tooth and nail here in Rhode Island, as you can see from the enclosed documents, but were unsuccessful in convincing our Representatives or Senators to recognize its faults," said the group in their letter.

Trump announced that he is will decertify the Iran nuclear deal earlier this month after the deal was put together in 2015.

"The Deal has to be improved or canceled because of its threats to our own country and to Israel, our strongest ally and the eternal homeland of the Jewish people. You have our support and the support of centrist and conservative Jews and Christians whom we represent," said the letter.

The group concluded their letter by saying, "Thank you for taking a measured and courageous stand to force us to re-visit the Deal and take whatever steps are necessary to rein in the growing power of Iran, whose government, unfortunately, is bent on world domination."
